

What would be the positives and negatives to year round schooling?

What are some ideas for how to use more technology in classrooms?

What do you think are some of the most important skills to learn to be successful at any job?

What are the pros and cons for taking online classes?

Why do you think people bully other people?

Who is the most influential person in your life? Why?

How do you think school should be structured differently for your generation?

Give an example of a time when one person's actions changed something for all kinds of people. Is this good or bad?

Why are some people more popular than others – who decides?

Do you think people should be able to pick characteristics of their children? How would you be different if your parents had a choice?

What ideas do you have to change the current epidemic of obesity in children?

Do sports players make too much money? Should they be expected to be role models or just play the game?

Which grades should matter more effort or academic?

What subject do you think is the most important in school to require of every student?

Do you think foreign languages should be taught? Which ones?

How do you feel about teens having plastic surgery?

Should video games for teens be rated or banned? Should there be a limit on the number of hours they are played?

Do you think it is rude to talk on a cell phone while eating dinner at a restaurant? In your opinion, when is it rude to talk on your cell phone?

Should kids specialize in one sport and play it all year or play lots of sports during the year?

Do kids today spend too much time inside?

Should parents be allowed to read everything you text on your phone?

Should celebrities be considered role models? Who would be a good one? Bad one?

Should kids be required to pay for more of their belongings or is it a parent's responsibility to provide everything?

Should animals be used in testing for such things as medicine or beauty products?

Should classes be offered about internet safety or should kids just "know" and learn from experience?

If you had plenty of money and wanted to donate some to a charity what cause would you support?

If you had a favorite pet that died would you clone it?

If you were to die in a car accident or some other tragedy would you want your organs donated? Why or why not?

Should recycling be required?

Do you have something you want to write about? – Your Choice!